Kindly give it up.

Â

Your bullshit accounts are usually detected and banned before you even get a chance to use them.

Â

If they do manage to make a post, they are usually removed and banned by one of our frequenting moderators before google has a chance to cache the crap in its spider.

Â

Further, every account you make just has its full details entered on the stop forum spam database.

Â

There are legitimate users within the 122.164.. and 122.174.. ranges and it would really be no detriment to us to ban them along with you.

Â

Kindly,

VBA-M Administration

I think I'd be pretty sad or confused if I was banned for being within those IP ranges and was not a spammer.
